

Equine Dental Clinic

Ventral Curvature

Dorsal Curvature

One of the most damaging myths about horse care is that they will show outward signs when they have sharp points or malocclusions in their mouth. Some of the worst mouths have been in horses with no obvious outward indications. Young Horses have softer teeth that become sharp points more rapidly. It is best to catch a dental problem when the horse is young.

May 31 & June 1, 2008

John Hoeck DVM A/CEqD

Melanie Hoeck A/CEqD

Kara Muchow CEqD

KCB Equine Center

70922 205th St. Dassel, MN

320.583.3703

Please call for appointment